My Last End

By Graeme Cook

The only reason these days, that I ever get down on one knee,
Is to view the World the way, that only a Bowler gets to see,

Upon that velvet turf, looking down along the level green, Studying the Kitty's spread, and where the Jack is on the scene

Will my final bowl be cunning, or just drive to win the end?
I know I'll find there's Bowls in Heaven, so worry not my friend.

Smile

By Conan Doyle

You can shed tears that she has gone, or you can smile because she has lived.
Your heart can be empty because you can't see her,
or you can be full of the love you shared.
You can remember her and only that she's gone, or you can cherish her memory and let it live on.
You can cry or close your mind, be empty and turn your back,
Or you can do what she'd want:
Smile, open your eyes, love and go on.
What can be happier than a life made beautiful with friendship and love and completed in honor?

Colours of My Life by The Seekers

A Life Well Lived

A life well lived is a precious gift, of hope and strength and grace, from someone who has made our world a brighter, better place.

It's filled with moments, sweet and sad with smiles and sometimes tears, with friendships formed and good times shared,
and laughter through the years.

A life well lived is a legacy, of joy and pride and pleasure, a living, lasting memory
our grateful hearts will treasure.
